KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

Key performance indicators that we use to manage our business and evaluate our financial results and operating performance include new customers, revenues, operating expenses and net income. We evaluate our performance on these metrics by comparing our actual results and normalized results to management budgets, forecasts and prior period performance.

DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

AMPD is an industry leading technology integrator providing hardware, software, hosting and support solutions to game developers and publishers as well as a range of other emerging sectors. AMPD has partnered with some of the top technology companies in the industry to provide customers with the advanced Cloud and IT Infrastructure solutions

AMPD was formed on April 8, 2015 under the British Columbia Corporations Act and its wholly owned subsidiary company. AMPD Game Technologies US Inc. ("AMPD US"), was incorporated on May 15, 2017 under the Secretary of State of Washington.

The founders of AMPD have been architecting high-performance computing ("HPC") infrastructure for nearly two decades. At their previous company, Seven Group, the team initially applied their expertise to solutions for banks, governments and academia, and subsequently focused on building out technology infrastructure for digital media companies.

AMPD continues to address the needs of these sectors, and is also applying high-performance computing principles to the low-latency requirements of multiplayer video game publishing, as well as the intense computation requirements of digital media production and distribution, where massive amounts of high-performance computing resources are required for the development, rendering and distribution of products. As gaming continues to transition from the basement to the sports arena, AMPD intends to increase its focus on providing infrastructure for latency-sensitive eSports games across North America and Europe.

Per share numbers adjusted to reflect the share exchange ratio in the Transaction.

The Company's revenues are generally consistent on a quarterly basis with the exception of February 2019 which is significantly greater due to the acquisition of a new customer and the completion of a sale to that customer. Individual sales to the Company's major customers may represent a significant portion of the Company's revenues in a quarter and the timing of closing these sales may cause variation in revenues from quarter to quarter. The Company intends to continue to expand its services which generate recurring revenue in the form of monthly fees for multi-year contracts or utilization-based billing which it expects will smooth variations in quarterly revenues.

THREE-MONTH PERIOD ENDED FEBRUARY 29, 2020

The net loss during the three months ended February 29, 2020 increased to $906,258 ($0.04 per share) from $104,919 ($0.01 per share) in the three months ended February 28, 2019. The most significant changes were increased salaries and fees as the Company increases staff to support future revenues, and a one-time cost to terminate an employment contract in the February 2020 quarter, amortization, mostly from leases, and share based compensation from the issue of stock options. Other contributing factors to the increase were increased promotion, office costs and travel.

Following is a discussion of the Company's financial results for the three months ended February 29, 2020, compared to the same period in the prior fiscal year.

Revenue

	Three months ended Feb 29/28		Variance from 2020 to 2019
	2020	2019
Hardware sales	$ 6,610	$ 664,848	$ (658,238)	(99)%
Software licensing fees	18,626	2,372	16,254	685%
Hosting fees	47,164	53,086	(5,922)	(11)%
Support and maintenance and other	46,001	6,157	39,844	95%
Total	$ 118,401	$ 726,463	(608,062)	(84)%

Consolidated revenues for the three months ended February 29, 2020 decreased by $608,062 compared to the three-month period ended February 28, 2019. The February 2019 sales were significantly increased by a one-time sale of hardware, representing substantially all of the revenue difference in the comparable periods. These hardware sales are intermittent and generally do not attract large margins. The decrease in revenues can be attributed primarily to slower than expected progress in raising funding, which resulted in greater focus on shareholder marketing at the expense of building operations.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

For the nine months ended February 29, 2020 and February 28, 2019

(Expressed in Canadian dollars)

Revenues and Cost of Sales

	Three months ended Feb. 29/28		Variance from 2020 to 2019
	2020	2019
Revenue	$ 118,401	$ 726,463	(608,062)	(84)%
Cost of sales	53,642	637,140	583,498	92%
Gross profit	$ 64,759	$ 89,323	(24,564)	(27)%

The Company's sales, cost of sales and gross margin were all affected by the large, one-time sale in the February 2019 quarter. Gross margins are generally reduced on support and maintenance services provided to customers.

Revenue by geographic region

	Three months ended Feb. 29/28		Variance from 2020 to 2019
	2020	2019
Canada	$ 118,394	$ 726,463	(608,069)	(83)%
United States	7	-	7	100 %
Total	$ 118,401	$ 726,463	(608,062)	(84)%

During the three-month period ended February 29, 2020, total revenues in Canada decreased by $608,069 compared to revenues in Canada during the three month period ended February 28, 2019 and revenues in the United States were negligible. The decrease in Canada is due to the one-time sale in the February 2019 quarter.

Selling and Marketing

	Three months ended Feb. 29/28		Variance
	2020	2019
Advertising and promotion	$ 54,416	$ 500	$ 53,916
Travel and entertainment	48,818	11,071	37,747
Total	$ 103,234	$ 11,571	$ 91,663

During the three-month period ended February 29, 2020, selling and marketing expenses increased by $91,663 compared to the February 2019 quarter due to promotional efforts for the placement, and the Company's business and growth strategy.

Operating, General and Administrative ("G&A") Expenses

	Three months ended February 29/28		Variance
	2020	2019
Amortization	149,501	194	149,307
Bank charges	1,899	2,150	(251)
Salaries & consulting fees	444,113	82,500	361,613
Dues and subscriptions	1,800	32,500	(30,700)
Insurance	7,395	2,339	5,056
Office and miscellaneous	40,233	6,436	33,797
Professional fees	37,294	28,928	8,366
Regulatory fees	4,426	-	4,426
Share based payments	134,510	8,000	126,510
Total G&A expenses	821,171	163,047	658,124

During the three-month period ended February 29, 2020, G&A expenses increased by $658,124 as compared to the three month period ended February 28, 2019. The increase in G&A expenses is primarily due to an increase in non-cash, share-based payments increased with the award of 2,250,000 stock options. Salaries and consulting fees increased as new staff were hired to help with the anticipated sales increases, existing staff received payments which more closely approached market-based levels in 2020 as compared to 2019 remuneration, and with the one-time cost to terminate an employment contract. Amortization increased as lease costs now report in the amortization line rather than as a rent expense in office and miscellaneous.

(Expressed in Canadian dollars)

Interest and financing costs

	Three months ended Feb. 29/28		Variance
	2020	2019
Interest expense	$ 45,847	$ 19,114	$ (26,733)
Total	$ 45,847	$ 19,114	$ (26,733)

Interest and financing costs for the three-month period ended February 29, 2020 increased by $26,733. The increase is due to the Company issuing additional unsecured convertible promissory notes in May 2019.

NINE-MONTH PERIOD ENDED FEBRUARY 29, 2020

The net loss during the nine months ended February 29, 2020 increased to $5,448,494 ($0.28 per share) from $377,903 ($0.02 per share) in the nine months ended February 28, 2019. The most significant change was a one-time cost of $3,405,568 related to the go-public transaction. Other significant contributing factors to the increase were increased advertising, non-cash share-based compensation and consulting fees.

Revenue in the nine-month period to February 29, 2020 fell to $473,905 from $1,017,002 in the nine-month period ended February 28, 2019 due to the one-time sale in the February 2019 quarter. Gross margins were reduced slightly due to the change in sales mix and the substantial one-time sale in the February 2019 period.

LIQUIDITY

As at February 29, 2020, the Company had a working capital of $519,538 (May 31, 2019 – deficit of $753,791). The improvement is primarily due to the Company's go-public transaction and concurrent cash raise, to fund ongoing expansion activity. The Company expects to continue to report operating losses for the immediate future. Adopting the new accounting standard for leases negatively affected the February 2020 working capital as compared to May 2019.

The Company experiences significant fluctuations in liquidity due to the timing of sales to major customers whereas operating expenses are generally incurred evenly throughout the fiscal year. All of the Company's liabilities are due within the current year. The Company does not have significant levels of inventory or constraints on its working capital other than regular operating expenses.

The Company has completed an investment round to provide it with capital to meet current obligations and finance future operations and would allow it to scale its ability to identify and execute new deals. AMPD intends to do this in parallel with expanding its effective reach to a global audience while expanding its product portfolio. A further capital raise is also currently being undertaken.

COMMON SHARES

The Company expects to acquire capital resources to expand operations through the completion of the Transactions as described above. Additional sources of financing and share issues are as follows:

The Company holds debt of $101,544 related to credit facility, bearing 16% interest and maturing October 13, 2020. The Company is required to meet certain covenants imposed by the lender which includes a financial covenant to maintain a minimum net worth, defined as its share capital plus retained earnings.

On August 29, 2018, the Company issued a $250,000 unsecured convertible promissory note to one of its principal shareholders who is also an officer and director of the Company. The note bears interest at 12% per annum, compounded monthly in arrears, matures on August 29, 2021, and is convertible to common shares at any time at the option of the holder at a conversion price of $0.79 per common share. On May 1, 2019, the Company amended the maturity date of the note to May 1, 2020 and the conversion price to $0.70 per common share.

Each royalty unit is comprised of one common share and one non-transferrable special warrant. Holders of the special warrants are entitled to receive a pro-rata share of 0.83% of the Company's annualized gross sales, to a maximum of 80% of net profit for that year, so long as the Company maintains a positive annual EBITDA. Once holders of the special warrants have received an amount equal to the aggregate purchase price of the royalty units, the Company may at its sole discretion convert each special warrant to one-half of one share purchase warrant, being 424,904 half warrants post-Transaction. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards

The Company previously prepared its annual financial statements in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Private Enterprises ("ASPE").

The Company adopted International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") with an effective date and transition date of June 1, 2016. Under IFRS 1 First-time Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards the IFRS are applied retrospectively at the transition date with all adjustments to assets and liabilities included in retained earnings unless certain exemptions are applied. None of the exemptions which could be applied on the transition to IFRS were applicable to the Company.

On conversion from ASPE to IFRS there were no significant changes that required adjustments to the Company's financial statements as at June 1, 2016 and for the year ending May 31, 2017.

All significant critical accounting estimates are fully disclosed in Note 2 of the interim consolidated financial statements.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENT RISKS

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, convertible debt and long-term debt. These financial instruments are exposed to certain risks, including credit risk, interest rate risk, liquidity risk and other market risk.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of an unexpected loss if a customer or third party to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. The Company's cash is held through large Canadian financial institutions. The Company considers credit risk on its cash to be minimal.

The Company's accounts receivable consists of Goods and Services Tax due from the Federal Government of Canada and amounts receivable from customers. The Company's maximum exposure to credit risk as at February 29, 2020 is $116,137 (May 31, 2019 - $34,424), representing accounts receivable.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

For the nine months ended February 29, 2020 and February 28, 2019

(Expressed in Canadian dollars)

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. Accounts payable and accrued liabilities are due within the current operating period, as is the debt. The Company manages its liquidity risk through its operating budgets and financing activities.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company is exposed to interest rate risk from its secured loans and convertible debentures. The Company's interest rates on these loans are fixed and the sensitivity of the Company's loss before tax to a reasonably possible change in market interest rates is considered minimal.

Other Market Risk

Other market risk that the Company is exposed to includes currency risk. Currency risk is the risk of loss due to fluctuation of foreign exchange rates and the effects of these fluctuations on foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities. The Company is not exposed to significant currency risk as the parent entity and subsidiaries primarily transact in their functional currencies.
